

Take To The Floor

YOURCODENAMEIS:MILO

We're coming in, we're coming in
Can you hear us? Can you hear us? Can you hear us?
How the tables have turned
You never listened before, you never listened before
I will raise my voice as I take to the floor
How the tables have turned
How the tables have turned
Same old story
Same broken promises
They all were changing, they all were changing
So I'll keep it to myself
They all were changing, they all were changing
So I'll keep it to myself
When sleep talking, when sleep talking
Truth will come out in the dreaming of crowds
How the tables have turned
And I'd tell that lie, I'd tell that lie
I made it up, I want you out of my life
How the tables have turned

Same old story
Same broken promises
And they all were changing, they all were changing
So I'll keep it to myself
They all were changing, they all were changing
So I'll keep it to myself
Take to the floor once again
You have me by your side
Take to the floor once again
You have me by your side
They all were changing, they all were changing
They all were changing
Same old story
Same broken promises
Same old story
Same broken promises
Same old story
Same broken promises
They all were changing
They all were changing
They all were changing
They all were changing
