

All That I'm Not

Yours Truly

Closure isn't real when
There's about a million things
That I could say to you
But it doesn't matter when
You were out before the end
And I am falling through

When she's touching your skin
Does it start to sink in
Filled the place I was in
Couldn't wait to begin
Said she was just a friend
But we know you pretend
Wishing I was her instead

I guess she's all that I'm not
All that I'm not
All that I'm not
All that I'm not

Closure isn't real when
We just never speak again
And you won't tell the truth
But it doesn't matter when
You look happy anyways
And I'm still breaking through

When she kisses your face
Does it start to sink in
How you left me that day
Couldn't wait to begin
Said she was just a friend
But we know you pretend
Wishing I was her instead

I guess she's all that I'm not
All that I'm not
All that I'm not
All that I'm not

I'm spinning out and breaking
I feel the air's been thinning
You say your heart is breaking
While you're spending nights in London
All feelings aside
I was right and you're a liar
Don't you think it's brave
That you can go and call me crazy?
And you're always the victim

Oh maybe you're not
Maybe you're not
Maybe you're not

Oh you're all that I'm not
All that I'm not

All that I'm not
All that I'm not

When she touches your skin
Does it start to sink in
Couldn't wait to begin
Wishing I was her instead
So you both made your bed
