

When The Sky Falls Down

Yours Truly

If they put pen to paper, what would it say?
Did you make an impression? Will they remember your name?
When the sun goes down and the street lights fade

When the sky falls down how will you be remembered?
When the lights burn out would you live on forever?

Would you give your last dollar, put a smile on a face?
And if we even bothered would anything change?
When the sun goes down and the street lights fade

When the sky falls down how will you be remembered?
When the lights burn out would you live on forever?
In thousand years will you be there or just be another soul
Lost in the middle of it all?
No one will know that you sacrificed it all

When the sky falls down how will you be remembered?
When the lights burn out would you live on forever?

When the sky falls down how will you be remembered?
When the lights burn out would you live on forever?
When the sky falls down how will you be remembered?
When the lights burn out would you live on forever?
