

The Only Reason

YukseK

When there's something on your mind
And all the rest seems like a waste of time
It's got you losing sleep at night
It's hard to find the way out when you're blinded by the light

If we can leave it all behind
Start from scratch and watch the stars align
Nothing's written in advance
If we wanna find out we'll just have to take a chance

And if you can see what I see
You'll take a chance on you and me

You're the only reason
I've been losing sleep at night
Helplessly believing
We can make it right
You're the only reason
I'm still waiting for a sign
Helplessly believing
I can make you mine

You took my time, I'll steal yours too

The more I thought of it the less I really knew
I spent too many seasons locked behind closed doors
Hoping you would rob me of my visions and make them yours

Every light leads back to you
Running in circles is the only thing I do
I know that nothing's ever written in advance
If I wanna find out I'll just have to take a chance

You're the only reason
I've been losing sleep at night
Helplessly believing
We can make it right

You're the only reason
I've been losing sleep at night
Helplessly believing
We can make it right
You're the only reason
I'm still waiting for a sign
Helplessly believing
I can make you mine
