

Second Wave

Yumi Zouma

You're under it
I wonder how,
You can sleep that much now days
Take cover now,
Don't bother
Running, you've got nothing

How could you,
Thought you would
Waste my time
When ever will you stop?
Take notice
That's us for now

Stay calm and wait up for the signal
You know that I'm ready to wait
Will you see this through to the ending?
It's us who they're sending round
Give me all your moonlighting troubles
Hands down it's an easy escape
Up the causeway and into the hurry
You don't need to worry now

'Cause you know my back's against the wall (I never think about it)
When you're acting like you'll never call (I never think about it)
I'm not one to play it cool (I'm always waiting on that)
So tell me what am I to you

I never think about it anyway
I never think about it anyway
I miss the time we used to dedicate
I'm always waiting on that second wave

Hold my hands closed
Into the dark
Can we keep what we've taken?
I'm thinking twice
About a line
I've been giving up lately

How could you,
Thought you would
Waste my time
When ever will you stop?
Take notice
That's us for now

Stay calm and wait up for the signal
You know that I'm ready to wait
Will you see this through to the ending?
It's us who they're sending round
Give me all your moonlighting troubles
Hands down it's an easy escape
Up the causeway and into the hurry
You don't need to worry now

'Cause you know my back's against the wall (I never think about it)

When you're acting like you'll never call (I never think about it)
I'm not one to play it cool (I'm always waiting on that)
So tell me what am I to you

I never think about it anyway
I never think about it anyway
I miss the time we used to dedicate
I'm always waiting on that second wave

I never think about it anyway
I never think about it anyway
I miss the time we used to dedicate
I'm always waiting on that second wave
