

Hello

Yuna

Hello, I've been waiting for you
Feels like darkness taking over
My mind, I can see the light
I've given everything inside
Hello, I've been waiting for you

And if I go
Don't let the tears become you
I've only left to the next room
We danced around and not talk about it
But know I had loved, and had love

Hello, I've been waiting for you
Feels like darkness taking over
My mind, I can see the light
I've given everything inside

Hello, I've been waiting for you
Feels like darkness taking over
My mind, I can see the light
Forgiveness, and unspoken goodbyes

And if I go just don't forget
The dream goes on
Only for you to find me
I'll live on in your morning coffee
And when the bird sings
You know that's me
