

Welcome Back, Dummy

Yung Bleu

Welcome back, dummy

Since you've been gone for a minute (Since you've been gone)
Welcome back to my life, it's been just fine since you ain't been in it
Don't talk to me 'bout what you learned, I know that grass ain't greener
You had to see yourself
Welcome back, I hope you had a fucked-up time
I hope he broke your heart a thousand times
I hope he told you 'bout a thousand lies
I hope he was just like I
So you can see that grass ain't greener on the other side
And I know you embarrassed, got you runnin' back to me

And I'm sayin', "Welcome back"
Tried to accept it
Your shit in the same place that you left it
I'm sayin', "Welcome back"
Even though we never talk no more
I never changed the locks on the doors 'cause welcome back
Taught you a lesson
Kept that shit the same place that you left it
I'm sayin', "Welcome back"
Even though we never talk no more
I never changed the locks on the doors 'cause welcome back

I don't wanna hear them stories like how he did you, how he did you
Wanna tell you to leave, but I miss you
I'm probably guilty, I probably did my dirt
I probably caused it, I probably made it worse
She hurt me second because I hurt her first
So I gotta accept it, I gotta let it burn
How come I see your face everywhere that I turn?
Tell me what you learned
She left my texts on read, I let her bump her head
I might be goin' fed, I can't see nothin' but red
I tried to talk to you, you ain't wanna talk it through
I'm not finna be stalkin' you, sittin' in the house for you
She think the grass greener, I turned her to a demon

And I'm sayin', "Welcome back"
Tried to accept it
Your shit in the same place that you left it
I'm sayin', "Welcome back"
Even though we never talk no more
I never changed the locks on the doors 'cause welcome back
Taught you a lesson
Kept that shit the same place that you left it
I'm sayin', "Welcome back"
Even though we never talk no more
I never changed the locks on the doors 'cause welcome back
