YUNGBLUD

I've been fighting the changes
Tearing my heart out
Wanting to die before I open my eyes
Been fighting the changes
Tearing my heart out
Wanting to die before I open my eyes

Go 'round the bend before the sun comes up
Things in my head just don't line up
Don't wanna leave my bed, 'cause if I do, I feel like I'll die
Go 'round the bend before the sun comes up
Things in my head just don't line up
Don't wanna leave my bed, 'cause every time I do I feel like

I've been fighting the changes
Tearing my heart out
Wanting to die before I'm living my life
Been fighting the changes
Tearing my heart out
Wanting to die before I

Break down
Think I'm gonna break down
Think I'm gonna fade out
Think I'm gonna break down, oh
Break down
Think I'm gonna break down
Think I'm gonna fade out
Think I'm gonna break down, oh, oh

Don't forget to put your feet in the grass
Tell your mum that you love her, say you cleaned up your act
Give money to the homeless man, help him buy a bar
When you're buying your morning coffee, ask them how they are God save the Sunday morning, pray for me on the Saturday night
Talk polite, don't start fights, don't tell lies
That's for the people with oblivious short sight
One day we'll meet man and I'll say alright
See the world is pretty big, man, but don't feel small in it
Sometimes you lose a number, but I swear you're still calling it
I promise you it'll be alright in the end
Fuck the depression, it's all in your head, stay with your friends
And walk up the hill at quarter to six in the morning
Take in the air while everyone else is still snoring
Express yourself with your friends, they'll save your life, you know
Everything's about connection, you don't have to be alone

Break down
Think I'm gonna break down
Think I'm gonna fade out
Think I'm gonna break down, oh
Break down
Think I'm gonna break down
Think I'm gonna fade out
Think I'm gonna break down, oh, oh
