

You can hear the silence growing on the floor
But you already know, now you start to sway
You feel it slipping out of control
But it's everything you know, now you understand
You hear the silence growing on the floor
But you already know, now you start to sway
You feel it slipping out of control
But it's everything you know, now you understand

Cannot stay awake, it's all too much
I feel so fake, mm-mm
It's hard to take, feeling gone soon
Just run away from my pain
Breathe and pray, then walk away
Just let it last, I don't know-oo
I'm fading fast like a flame
Get caught in pain, now I'm lost in the dark again

Falling harder, can you save me, baby?
It's too bitter, push me down maybe
Let me see now who I really am
Chasing freedom from this weight again, hm

You can hear the silence growing on the floor
But you already know, now you start to sway
You feel it slipping out of control
But it's everything you know, now you understand
You hear the silence growing on the floor
But you already know, now you start to sway
You feel it slipping out of control
But it's everything you know, now you understand
