Ocean

Zacari

Many lifetimes ago
She was an ocean and I was a shore
I was ready to roll
With the tide knowing I couldn't fight if I tried because
Many lifetimes ago
She was an ocean and I was a shore
Ready to roll
With the tide knowing I couldn't fight if I tried to

You're so vibrant
Baby, you're so vibrant, so fly and so righteous
You the brightest star in my night, keep the sky lit
Crazy all the time, it's divine
Hope that time can't divide us
'Cause every time you stay the night, I
Wonder where the time went
Everywhere I ride, you invited
I just want it raw like your diet
I still hear your voice in the silence
I can feel the pain in the notes you sing
You can feel the peace in my heart you bring
And everywhere you go, you make everything grow
Oh, everywhere you go, you make everything grow
I see you overflowing

Many lifetimes ago
She was an ocean and I was a shore
I was ready to roll
With the tide knowing I couldn't fight if I tried because
Many lifetimes ago
She was an ocean and I was a shore
Ready to roll
With the tide knowing I couldn't fight if I tried to

No matter how hard I try
Might as well, fuck it, yeah
Might as well lay you down when I'm high as hell
Love is rare so admit this love is real
Might as well while it's warm enough to swim
Might as well stretch it out before I dip, yeah
Might as well treat this moment like our last
I can help you heal from your past
I can tell you've always shown compassion
And I can tell you ain't always get it back

These melodies I sing to myself
Thoughts I couldn't keep to myself
Songs I should probably keep to myself

But so many lifetimes ago
Many lifetimes ago
She was an ocean
She was an ocean and I was a shore
I was ready to roll
With the tide knowing I couldn't fight if I tried because
Many lifetimes ago
Many lifetimes ago

She was an ocean and I was a shore
And I was the shore
Ready to roll
With the tide knowing I couldn't fight if I tried to

These melodies I sing to myself
Thoughts I couldn't keep to myself
Songs I should probably keep to myself
