

Always Willin'

Zach Bryan

When I was leavin' your house, you told me, "Be careful"
There's some dark, dark deserts under Arizona skies
Sedona don't own you or owe you a damn thing
And you've always got somewhere else on your mind
Like somewhere that will care and maybe treat you fair
With a Spanish tongue and some dark brown eyes

And I know that I'm hell-bent and always will be
But at least God knows I was always willing
At least God knows I was always willin'

But God ain't a man in a 2-piece suit
He's a miner deep down and He's covered in soot
And he'll come find you when it's time
Your soul's like an old Kentucky coal mine
Hey, your soul's like an old Kentucky coal mine

And when I finished the show, you told me, fly easy
The thunder and lightning might get a boy down
And those girls that are dancing way out in Hyde Park
I love a thick accent and a western sound

And I know that I'm hell-bent and always will be
But at least God knows I was always willing
At least God knows I was always willin'

But God ain't a man in a 2-piece suit
He's a miner deep down and He's covered in soot
And he'll come find you when it's time
Your soul's like an old Kentucky coal mine
Your soul's like an old Kentucky coal mine

When I was leavin' your house, you told me, "Be careful"
There's some dark, dark deserts under Arizona skies
Sedona don't own you or owe you a damn thing
And you've always got somewhere else on your mind
But God ain't a man in a 2-piece suit
He's a miner deep down and He's covered in soot
And he'll come find you when it's time
Your soul's like an old Kentucky coal mine
Your soul's like an old Kentucky coal mine