

Why Does It Hurt?

Zack Tabudlo

Love, I know it's really hard to see
It's something that you need to feel
I don't know if you're blind
Or are you really just stupid
'Cause you ain't looking twice
You run to me every night
You say he doesn't treat you right
I've been here by your side
You don't have to find him
I've already gave you signs

I'll be patiently waiting
'Cause you're the one until the day that I die
So, can you please just let me know before I go?
'Cause it's hurting you know

Why does it hurt falling in love?
You give all your best but it's just not enough
Do you really have to deal with all this bullshit?
Just to find the one for you

Love, I kinda find it hard to believe
That someone's really out to find me
I've been giving my chances
End up breaking my heart
It's become a bad habit
Ooh, I know, I know you take advantage of me
But I'm here loving you endlessly
You got me down on my knees
I'm fuckin' desperate, you see
But despite of this you know, you know

I'll be patiently waiting
'Cause you're the one until the day that I die
So, can you please just let me know before I go?
'Cause it's hurting you know

Why does it hurt falling in love?
You give all your best but it's just not enough
Do you really have to deal with all this bullshit?
Just to find the one for you
Why does it hurt falling in love?
You give all your best but it's just not enough
Do you really have to deal with all this bullshit?
Just to find the one for you

Loving you just makes me feel so easy
Don't even have to think about a thing
I'll just hold you really tight, you know I need ya
So come on here and hold me tight, my baby
Come on here and hold me tight, my baby
Come on here and hold me tight, my baby
You don't even have to think about a thing

Why does it hurt falling in love?
You give all your best but it's just not enough
So come on here and hold me tight

So come on here and hold me tight, my baby
