Eating Popeye's in the parade
Under the bridge right by the waffle house
That's when I had my mind made up
Walking around campus to avoid everyone
I wish my mom had let me drop out
Back then I had my mind up

And then it changed, one day
I forgot exactly what I want to be
And then it changed, one day
I forgot exactly what I want to be

Well Larry's so fast and Harley's forms could
They dashed past me, I tried to catch them
But I came in last cause the landing hurt my foot
She reached out her hand and my face started to flood
But Arjun taught me how to dunk
Christian taught me how to dunk
Beckett told me how to dunk
Julia you might've been the one
Armin got me out a slump
And Britney helped me out a bunch
And I should've told Will's older sister that I loved

And then it changed, one day
I forgot exactly what I want to be
And then it changed, one day
I forgot exactly what I want to be
