

The Last Two People On Earth

Zager & Evans

So, it was written
At man's hate for men
Would poison the skies
And would blacken the land

Now there is me
But the price was so high
The world was destroyed
Leaving just you and I

We are the last two people on earth
We've got to try for all that it's worth
And build, a brand new world

How does it feel
To be Adam and Eve?
Though this has happened
We still must believe

A life can begin
In a dozen of dust
The whole human race
Is depending on us

We are the last two people on earth
We've got to try for all that it's worth
And put our hearts together
There's nothing we can't face
Now hate is gone forever
And love has taken it's place

We are the last two people on earth
We are the last two people on earth
We are the last two people on earth
We are the last two people on earth
