

Nothing

Zara Larsson

You can be quiet
You can deny it
Sit there in silence all you want
Tell me you're fine
Yeah
Give me a smile
But I know that something is going on

All because one of us is saying nothing

And that's how it starts
Yeah I know you well
When you say it's nothing
It all falls apart
Yeah I know too well
When you say it's nothing
It's never nothing
It's never nothing

Something has changed
When you say my name and
I'm not the same anymore

Try to be patient
Giving you space
But seems like your mind's half-way out the door
No more trust
Both of us
Know you're bluffing

And that's how it starts
'Cause I know you well
When you say it's nothing
It all falls apart
Yeah I know too well
When you say it's nothing
It's never nothing
It's never nothing

I wish you could tell me
What you're thinking
What you're going through now
'Cause if you don't tell me
We can't fix it
We can't find a way out

If you still care
Want me there
Please say something

And that's how it starts
Yeah I know you well
When you say it's nothing
It all falls apart
Yeah I know too well
When you say it's nothing
It's never nothing

It's never nothing
