

Saturn's Return

Zara Larsson

Made my decisions, but that don't mean I have to live with them
My leaves are changing, and roots grow deeper than I understand

The more I experience, the more mysterious it gets
Better let it unfold
'Cause I'm not young enough to know everything anymore
Anymore

And it feels so good to know I don't know what I'm doing
And I love that I'm free in my naivety, I won't lose it
Could be wrong, could be right
But this song is mine

I tried to control all that was unknown
'Cause I was scared
Thought I could grow out of uncertainty
But instead I grew not to care

The more I experience, the more mysterious it gets
Better let it unfold
'Cause I'm not young enough to know everything anymore
Anymore

And it feels so good to know I don't know what I'm doing (It feels so good, it feels so good)
And I love that I'm free in my naivety, I won't lose it (It feels so good, it feels so good)
Could be wrong (Could be wrong), could be right (Could be right)
But this song is mine

When I was seventeen, I didn't have no patience
Set by twenty, I've been feeling out of stadiums
Didn't happen, so I changed the deadline
Might take another twenty years and that's fine
Ain't the concept of time so crazy
We were just kids, now my friends are having babies
Got me thinking like, I want that too
Damn, that's new

And it feels so good to know I don't know what I'm doing (It feels so good, it feels so good)
And I love that I'm free in my naivety, I won't lose it (It feels so good, it feels so good)
Could be wrong (Could be wrong), could be right (Could be right)
But this song is mine
