

Disease

Zeal & Ardor

It might just take a miracle to make you survive
No one knows if you are still here
I might just speculate as much to make it behind
No one knows if you are still here

Keep in mind the melodrama of a given time for
Just a minute again
Stay behind and anodize your favorite coat of armor
Just a minute again
What the fuck is going on? I'm catching a disease
We never had to talk about the thing that brings you to your knees

Don't go long now
You're trying to be fine but you're another disease
Don't stay long, child
Insisting that you're kind but you're the enemy
Don't go long now
You're trying to be fine but you're another disease
Don't stay long, child
Insisting that you're kind but you're an enemy

It might just take a minute to make you figure out
If you really wanna be here
It might become the reason to make you realize
No one knows why you are still here

Keep in mind the melodrama of a given time for
Just a minute again
Stay behind and anodize your favorite coat of armor
Just a minute again
What the fuck is going on? I'm catching a disease
We never had to talk about the thing that brings you to your knees

Don't go long now
You're trying to be fine but you're another disease
Don't stay long, child
Insisting that you're kind but you're the enemy
Don't go long now
You're trying to be fine but you're another disease
Don't stay long, child
Insisting that you're kind but—

What the fuck is going on? I'm catching a disease
We never had to talk about the thing that brings you to your knees

Don't go long now
You're trying to be fine but you're another disease
Don't stay long, child
Insisting that you're fine but you're the enemy
Don't go long now
You're trying to be fine but you're another disease
Don't stay long, child
Insisting that you're kind