

Fend You Off

Zeal & Ardor

Thousands of hours we wait to devour what's gone
Hidden in truth is the merit of youth, what is left?
I have been clenching my fists so my palms start to bleed
A fool is the person who truly reverts to the law
The law

I've eaten lies to fend you off
I've eaten lies to fend you off

Countless men of countless ways
To be better than the next of our very kin
Countless days speak of countless ways
We forget each other
Ways that we fight each other
I have been grinding my teeth to the end
A fool is the person that let's me revert in the naught
And I

I've eaten lies to fend you off
I've eaten lies to fend you off

There's a thorn in my side
Don't get away now
There's a thorn in my side
Don't get away now
There's a thorn in my side
Don't get away now
There's a thorn in my side
Don't get away now
There's a thorn in my side

I've eaten lies to fend you off
I've eaten lies to fend you

Fend you off
I've eaten lies just to fend you, to fend you off
