

Pilgrimage

Zed Yago

Zed Yago is leaving the twilight zone the human body now it's her own A gift of god of the devil too this pact she has to satisfy soon
it's still the rain that shakes the universe

A pilgrimage is the go between disgust and dignity,
A pilgrimage is the go between, rich and mad, proud and sad, free the spirit of its chain.

United allies swear blood and pain one for all and all for one again They're out to find the lost fantasy remembering the human tragedy
its still the rain that shakes the universe.

Some hideous lies in a fairy tale demolish every paradise,
only venties are not for sale and won't destroy your sacrifice.
