

Driver's Side

Zed

Someone's laughing
They must have caught a glimpse of you
They sound so happy
So what am I supposed to do?
No one's blameless
You're having way too much fun here
They're suicidal
And no one seems to really care
If I could be a part of this one
You could have the driver's side and
If I could be just half what you've been
My life would be complete and I'd be
The same old person but in your shoes and I'd Know the people that you know too
Who's that laughing
The fuss they cause is everywhere
It's inspirational
They've got to know we're out there