

Fall Down

Zero 9:36

The higher that I get
The harder that I fall when I fall down
The closer that we get
The further that we drift when you're not around
With each and every step
I'm running out of breath until I drown
The higher that I get
The harder that I fall when I fall down

I don't want to hold back
But I can't let it go
Can't focus on my own path
When I'm losing all control
Won't pull myself together
Just to go and push you out the door
And if I ever bleed
I hope that you will never notice

I don't want to try anymore
Failed a couple times, I don't know
How to fix inside what is broke
I hope I can
And the higher I climb is the harder I fall
Don't forget all the times and what started it all
When you're stuck in my mind there's a part that would call
Man I'm sick of this shit, but aren't we all?

The higher that I get
The harder that I fall when I fall down
The closer that we get
The further that we drift when you're not around
With each and every step
I'm running out of breath until I drown
The higher that I get
The harder that I fall when I fall down

I don't want to lose faith
I've been praying to my god
And it's fuck whatever you say
I'm not ashamed of feeling lost
How many times I lost it all
That came right back, to me is no surprise
And if I ever bleed
There better be some bullets that I dodged, and I won't

Fucking run inside anymore
Look into your eyes anymore
Tell another lie anymore
I hope you know
That the higher I climb is the harder I fall
Don't forget all the times and what started it all
When you're stuck in my mind there's a part that would call
Man I'm sick of this shit, but aren't we all?

The higher that I get
The harder that I fall when I fall down
The closer that we get

The further that we drift when you're not around
With each and every step
I'm running out of breath until I drown
The higher that I get
The harder that I fall when I fall down
When I fall down
When I fall down
When we fall down
