

Leave The Light On

Zero 9:36

(One day I might not make it back home
Sometimes the devil walks alone
If you love me, you'll never let me go
Just leave the light on)

Sometimes I got it messed up
Do what I gotta to get the money back up
Last time I had a bad love
But I'm sure as fuck you had my back
And that's what made me comfortable to put my blood
Sweat and tears on both of us
Gives my veins another rush
Every time that we're just fucking done (I'm saying)

Trouble is just a necessary evil
And it don't always end peaceful
I know you worry but don't give up on me

One day I might not make it back home
Sometimes the devil walks alone
If you love me, you'll never let me go
Just leave the light on

One day I might not make it back home
Sometimes the devil walks alone
If you love me, you'll never let me go
Just leave the light on

Turn your back if you don't wanna witness
All the things I had to do for us
When I had to do too much
You helped me out, the water rushed
I was laying at home
You and me and my shadow
You were my back bone
When I got myself together
Looked into the mirror
Knew there's nothing but I've lost a lot of fuckin'

Trouble is just a necessary evil
And it don't always end peaceful
I know you worry but don't give up on me

One day I might not make it back home
Sometimes the devil walks alone
If you love me, never let me go
Just leave the light on

One day I might not make it back home
Sometimes the devil walks alone
If you love me, you'll never let me go
Just leave the light on

Maybe we don't know how
To get ourselves the fuck out
Of this position that we're in
No difference if my job is done or I'm out

Working on it
You can see it all now
Never wanted you to see that I'm down
Had to go and break my hands out these cuffs
And it breaks the past to change us, just saying

One day I might not make it back home
Sometimes the devil walks alone
If you love me, you'll never let me go
Just leave the light on
