

The Fear

Zero 9:36

I don't want to feel the fear
I don't wanna be broken
I don't think the end is coming near
But I'll be ready when I'm chosen

You can't lie to my face
You can't hide your emotion

I don't think the end is coming near
But I'll be ready when I'm chosen

How many wanna dig grave
How many of us have a reason
Is there something in the way
Or is it all to stop the bleeding

Can only choose a way to go wrong
And I'm sick of walking death row
I was strong enough to hold on
I wasn't strong enough to let go

I don't want to feel the fear
I don't wanna be broken
I don't think the end is coming near
But I'll be ready when I'm chosen

You can't lie to my face
You can't hide your emotion

I don't think the end is coming near
But I'll be ready when I'm chosen

I'm not the only one to fall
I never found a way to break out
And when it got cold, God knows that nobody could've ever kept me face down

So what do we do when the hopes gone
And were sick of walking death row
When I wasn't strong enough to hold on
And the the pain make me let go

I don't want to feel the fear
I don't wanna be broken
I don't think the end is coming near
But I'll be ready when I'm chosen

You can't lie to my face
You can't hide your emotion

I don't think the end is coming near
But I'll be ready when I'm chosen

It was you when I started to take my breath
Set up to lose, not a way to repay my debt
Break my neck
Retrace my steps
I felt it, face to face, escape my death

Oh God

Let go

I don't want to feel the fear
I don't wanna be broken
I don't think the end is coming near

I don't want to feel the fear
I don't wanna be broken
I don't think the end is coming near
But I'll be ready when I'm chosen

You can't lie to my face
You can't hide your emotion

I don't think the end is coming near
But I'll be ready when I'm chosen
