

Marching Through Your Head

Zeus

Do you feel it all the time?
The way she prays upon your mind?
She's a fiend for you love and that's all
Body's aching all the time
The way we feel that old red wine
It's a squeeze and you feel it
Living another day in someone else's fantasy
Makes it harder than it was before
And though you've changed over time you need help to realize no thing you do is ever ever set in stone
And it's been marching through your head
Wake up tired in your own bed
When she turns to you and says
"I want it all, I want it all, I want it all, I want it all, I want it all, I want it all, I want it all"
And then you promise everything
Finest diamonds on her ring
Years of sadness this will bring
Truth always comes out in spring
And it's been marching through your head

You think of all the things she said
And all the times that you regret
You've been untrue to your own heart
And it's been marching through your head
You think about it day and night, my friend
I know you do, I know you far too well to let you go with her
Oh I think about your lover
And all the time she's done you wrong
I know you could do better
Oh yeah, but you've been waiting far too long
Oh yeah, you think about it marching through your head
You think about it day and night, my friend
I know you do, I know you far too well to let you go with her
Oh yeah, you think about it marching through your head
You think about it day and night, my friend
I know you do, I know you far too well to let you go with her
