

CAMPFIRE

Ziggy Alberts

Light up a campfire
On the days your lights are low
You've been my lighthouse
Sailing time to get back home
Inception in the summertime
Stockholm syndrome by July
Your avatar's anti-authority
Instead we're being all compliant
We really don't have to

Light up a campfire
On the days your lights are low
On the days you just don't know
Light up a campfire
On the days you're filled with doubt
On the days you don't know how
When your lights are low
Hmm, hmm

The revolution you're looking for
Simply won't be televised
Telling visions are for selling things
Done on screens of any size
Of what we think
How much are we just told?
Sales-pitching team against you and me
Is so mainstream and unoriginal
We really don't have to

Light up a campfire
On the days your lights are low
On the days you just don't know
Light up a campfire
On the days you're filled with doubt
On the days you don't know how

Light up a campfire
On the days your lights are low
On the days you just don't know
Light up a campfire
On the days you're filled with doubt
On the days you don't know how

When your lights are low
When your lights are low, low
