

Waves are lapping up against the shoreline
A red old sailboat is parked in the front yard
I can't help write these songs about the ocean
When life is showing me poetry in motion
And people are laughing aloud in the background

You don't need to
Change you're right just where you are
And if you just see to learn yourself then you can go far
When the world is barely turning on an any axis
Fires burn out remember you are born of stars
You're right just where you are

Tears are rolling down upon my cheeks while I
A turtle swims past we're living in a postcard
I can't help write these songs about the ocean
When life is showing me poetry in motion
And people are laughing aloud in the background

You don't need to
Change you're right just where you are
And if you just see to learn yourself then you can go far
When the world is barely turning on an any axis
Fires burnt out remember you are born of stars
You're right just where you are

Sing it with me
I do belong I'm here I feel embodied babe
I do belong I'm here I feel embodied baby
I do belong I'm here I feel embodied baby
I do belong I'm here I feel embodied baby
Embodied baby
Embodied baby
