Yung Germ

My fate is pain-staking
I run away, hoping that I run into my making
Maker, am I just forsaken?
Ready to bust my load because I do not have no patience
Calling on my phone, it's going straight out to the tone
Like I'm stuck in danger in the Paris Catacombs
Seeing stuff that isn't, turn the light on and it's gone
As above, so below, I am lower than low

And I don't wanna know
What I'm drinking means no antidote
Just shut me up
And shut me down
And I don't wanna know
What I'm drinking means no antidote
Just shut me up
And shut me down

My life is far from basic
The emptiness around the void inside me like it's vacant
Finding ways to feel it, unfulfilled's a natural villain
As I battle mental illness, often clashing with my brilliance
Now I'm smoking reefer 'til ashes crumble down
And hit my sneakers, my fear and anxiety is off the meters
The only thing I know is I don't know, storm into the unknown
Shit is getting rocky with touchstone

And I don't wanna know
What I'm drinking means no antidote
Just shut me up
And shut me down
And I don't wanna know
What I'm drinking means no antidote
Just shut me up
And shut me down

My life is straight racing
I speed away, hopin' that I lost whoever's chasin'
Chaser, he is always gainin'
Ready to use my knives if he gets closer, I'm just waiting
I cannot stay neutral, I fucked my clutch (Okay)
Do I go forward or do I back up? (Okay)
Do I lay down or do I just stand up? (Okay)
The only thing I know is that I don't know (No)

And I don't wanna know
What I'm drinking means no antidote
Just shut me up
And shut me down
And I don't wanna know
What I'm drinking means no antidote
Just shut me up
And shut me down

And shut me down

And shut me down
