

Mars200

Zoé

Wake up, and come along, it's raining on Mars, the news said that very soon planet Earth is going to die.

My God!
She said with tears in her eyes I don't believe what they're saying she screams at the red sky while falling apart oh, I never meant to hurt you.

Hey!
The time has come now,
for us to see you,
to realize now
that's something's wrong with human kind,
the preacher said.

We gather on silver square,
and looked at the sky,
the blue pearl of universe, is pink and ready to explode.

Old men are trembling in terror, some others, fight for the telescope, reporters pose for the camera, oh, we never meant to hurt you,
oh, we never meant to hurt you!

Oh, we never meant,
oh, we never meant,
oh, we never meant to hurt you.
