

Chivalry Is Dead

Zonke

They wanted to be together
Chances are they never see each other
Defined and exclude the same story
So much love but somewhere unafforded
He was living like a king
The only son to achieve she was no one (no one)
In their eyes anyway

He was all that she had
And for him the world was too sweet to resist
Even though he knew she would seize to exist
As she did for only him

I loved it when she said
Please meet me at the river
She looked into his eyes she cried
I loved it when she stared
Into the eyes that used to care for her
And realized
Chivalry is dead
Chivalry is dead
Chivalry is dead

She thought if she waited for me
Chances are they end up together
Fairy tale ending to a story
No she couldn't rewrite the story

She was never good enough
She will always be the one who would fail to please them
And will never be one of us

I loved it when she said
Please meet me at the river
She looked into his eyes she cried
I loved it when she stared
Into the eyes that used to care for her
And realized
Chivalry is dead
Chivalry is dead
Chivalry is dead
Is dead

I loved it when she stared
Into the eyes that used to care for her
And realized
Chivalry is dead
Is dead
Is dead

Oh wa, oh wa, oh wa
Ambonide, ambonide
...