

Evil on the Inside

ZZ Ward

You're like an angel
Walking with your wings on the outside
I let my walls down
Fell into your arms like a landslide
I can't believe I've been so naive, this is, treason
The way that you love is so vicious
I'm freezing you out now
Ain't nothing left to fix
Ain't never turning this around

We could do this all night
Stormy tears falling like the rain on the tin roof
Buckets out, filling up with blame
Better that I know
Better that I know
Better that I know
You got that evil on the inside
We could do this all night
You got that evil on the inside

You got a halo
A golden ring that's made of tinfoil
Filling my ears up with all your different kinds of snake oil
Things that you said to me sounded so heavenly
Lies falling out of your lips til they cover me
Honestly so what
Keep your half apologies, they ain't even gonna be enough

We could do this all night
Stormy tears falling like the rain on the tin roof
Buckets out, filling up with blame
Better that I know
Better that I know
Better that I know
You got that evil on the inside

We could do this all night
Stormy tears falling like the rain on the tin roof
Buckets out, filling up with blame
Better that I know
Better that I know
Better that I know
You got that evil on the inside
We could do this all night
You got that evil on the inside

We could do this all night
Stormy tears falling like the rain on the tin roof
Buckets out, filling up with blame
Better that I know
Better that I know
And I know

We could do this all night
Stormy tears falling like the rain on the tin roof

Better that I know
Better that I know
Better that I know
You got that evil on the inside

We could do this all night
We could do this all night
You got that evil on the inside

We could do this all night
We could do this all night
